

Our Comments

Brief explanation of cited references

At the beginning, we will be proving quick translation of paragraph #0015 of Reference 1 and paragraph #0014 of Reference 2.

Ref. 1 (JP11-143605)

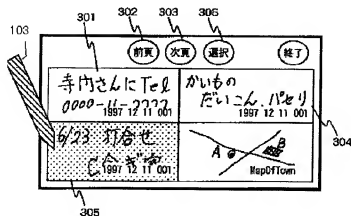

Numerals:

103: a pen for indication a tablet,

305: a table popped up after the review button has been depressed

Paragraph #0015:

A numeral 304 denotes "a date" indicating when the memo was created. The date includes the year, month and day of the date the memo was created. A manually written memo file is stored in a data storage area 503. A sheet of the memo is stored in the form of a file. The file name is a numeral including a four-digit year, a two-digit month, a two-digit day, and a three-digit of serial number, which makes a eleven-digit number. For example, with respect to the first created memo on December 11, 1997, a number "19971211001" is given as its file name. The serial number is progressively increased by one when a plural of memos are created in the same day.

Reference 1, Figure 3